THE NEW REPUBLIC.

The Brazilian Minister at Washington

Takes a Hopeful View of the Situation at Rio.

Dom Pedro Invited to Visit Windsor Castle—The Report of Rioting at Rio Contradicted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Up to a late hour to-night no advices had been received either at the state department or at the Brazilian legation from Rio de Janeiro regarding the situation of affairs there. De Valente, Brazilian minister, and his colleagues, De Mendonica and Senor Pereira, delegates to the international American congress, did not participate in the proceedings of the conference to-day, but are waiting for instructions from the new government in Brazil. Minister Valente regards the view of the dominant republicans as set forth in their manifesto as most reasonable in all respects, and as they have assumed all of the obligations and debts of the empire and have guaranteed the fullest measure of protection and personal liberty to the citizens of other nations, residing in Brazil, as well as security to their interests, he cannot see any excuse for disatisfaction abroad at the recent change. He thinks a constitutional convention must be assembled in Brazil very soon. The boundaries or representation of the various provinces will have to be readjusted and the senate reconstructed. The abolition of the senate as the first act of the revolutionists, Dr. Valente thinks has been misunderstood as tending toward despotism, when, as a matter of fact, it was a liberal movement, as will be understood when it is generally known that the senators under the old regime were elected for life, and it has been asserted did not always continue to reflect the views of their constituents. The minister also looks forward to the extension of the right of suffrage by the constitutional convention. At present, in addition to the ordinary requirements of age, citizenship, etc., the voter must be possessed of an income of not less than $200 per annum. This requirement has been liberally construed, yet there is a demand for its abolition because of the mixed character of the population of Brazil. The minister believes that it would hardly be wise to have unrestricted suffrage at present, but favors the imposition of a requirement that after a period of four years from the adoption of the new constitution, voters must at least be able to write their names or read. This, he believes, would stimulate popular education and cause the uneducated people to avail themselves of the free schools, which already abound in Brazil. Altogether Dr. Valente takes a very hopeful view of the situation. It is not, he says, a distruction of the building, but rather a renovation of the edifice.

U. S. Vessels Ordered to Brazil.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The United States government has ordered Rear Admiral Gillis, who is stationed at Montevideo with the vessels Richmond and Tallaposa, to proceed to Brazilian waters. Secretary Tracy has ordered him to proceed for Brazil at once. The despatch contained a warning about yellow fever, but gave no detailed instructions to the admiral. No fear is entertained in the state and navy departments concerning the U. S. interests in Brazil, but it was thought best to have a couple of war vessels conveniently located in the event of serious disturbance.

Dom Pedro Invited to Visit Windsor.

LONDON,, Nov. 20.—It is stated that the Queen has forwarded Dom Pedro an invitation to visit her at Windsor Castle.

Fighting at Rio.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The Figaro publishes a despatch from Hamburg stating that the merchants of that city have received a despatch from Rio Janeiro saying that a movement in favor of the dethroned emperor, Dom Pedro, has been started, and that fighting between the ex-emperor's sympathisers and the revolutionists is now going on in the streets.

Dom Pedro Departs for Lisbon.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Senor Fonseca, the provisional president of Brazil, cables to the central news agency stating positively that Dom Pedro has departed for Lisbon. Fonseca states that he and his colleagues intend to conduct the administration of affairs until the country choses a permanent government.

No Rioting.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Brazilian legation has received a positive denial of the reported rioting in Rio Janerio. The legation has also been informed that action on the status of ambassadors and consuls will be taken in a few days. It is thought probable that their resignations will be asked for.

KOOTENAY MINING NEWS.

Encouraging Reports of the Mineral Wealth of this Section of the Province.

(From the Kootenay Star.)

REVELSTOKE.

The improvements to navigation on the river are now going on, Capt. Sanderson and about 15 men with the steamer Dispatch being engaged on the work.

It is reported that Messrs. J. Valentine & Co. have sold the Selkirk shingle mill to J. C. Steeh and Frank Robinson, of Donald.

Snow began to fall last Monday night and about six inches lies in the valley and has the appearance of remaining till spring.

Mr. Alex. Watson, a ship builder at Victoria has the contract to build the new steamer for the Columbia River Transportation Co., and is expected here to commence work as soon as the timber arrives, which he is now selecting and shipping from the Royal City Mills. The vessel will be 131 feet long, and 25 feet beam, and will be framed and planked this fall ready for the machinery in the early spring.

MINING NOTES.

The syndicate of British capitalists who bought the claims on Carbonate mountain through Mr. Isaac Robinson, of London, have begun work for the winter. They started from Golden a few days ago, a pack train of twenty-four animals carrying out supplies. Mr. McCabe has charge of the operations.

The first arrival of ore from the Fish Creek mine was delivered at the track on Thursday. The first car load of ore will reach the smelter next week.

Several members of the Kootenai Mining and Smelting Company have been at the Blue Bell mine, where they were considering plans for a smelter.

A delegation of about twenty of the principal mining men from the Kootenai country have arrived in Spokane Falls, and are all enthusiastic over the results of this season's work. Mr. A. D. Wheeler is among the party.

ILLECILLEWAET.

Few people outside of this camp have any conception of the magnificent prospects slowly but surely being brought into prominence by the untiring efforts of those interested in developing the mineral wealth of this section of Kootenay. Having spent considerable time in and having traveled over this promising region from the headwaters of Gold Stream south to the famed mineral claims on Fish Creek, I feel warranted in asserting that nowhere is the outlook brighter than in this camp, and from the present outlook it is doubtful if the shipments of ore for 1890 will be exceeded, if equalled, by any other section of Kootenay, or even of the province. I claim without fear of contradiction that the Dunvegan mine on Fish Creek stands unrivalled to-day as the bonanza mining property of British Columbia. This is a sweeping assertion, but stubborn facts are difficult to overcome.

The Selkirk Mining Company own a number of promising properties which could easily be transformed from unproductive mineral claims to self-sustaining and profitable mines.

In close proximity to the Selkirk Co.'s claims, is the well-known "Maple Leaf," that is undoubtedly destined to make a name in the mining history of the province.

Three miles up Cariboo Creek, a group of five claims owned and operated by the Cariboo mining company, are showing up in splendid form. Reefs of mineral traverse the mountain in every direction, while the vein blossom is something prodigious.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Death of "Buffalo" Miller.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—H. B. Miller, better known as "Buffalo" Miller, died at 1:30 this morning at the Grand Pacific hotel. He reached this city in company with his wife and daughter last Wednesday, from his home at South Bend, Ind. They were on a pleasure trip, intending visiting the eastern and southern cities. On Sunday night he was stricken with Bright's disease, and in spite of the efforts of the physicians he sank rapidly. An operation was performed yesterday, but it afforded no relief, and death resulted this morning.

Wonderful Coal Find.

MAHANOY PLANE, Pa., Nov. 20.—Lawrence & Brown, of the Mahanoy Plane Colliery here, made a tremendous hit in striking a new mammoth vein of anthracite coal. The vein is said to be 200 feet thick, containing millions of tons. It will go on record as the greatest accidental "find" of pure coal ever known. The vein was struck while making a drift 440 yards under the surface.

He Blew Out the Gas.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—J. Roteau, of Los Angeles, Cala., who was about to sail for Europe to visit his friends in France, stopped at the Hotel Martin in this city last night. He blew out the gas upon retiring, and this morning was found dead in bed.

The Notorious Bender Women.

OSWEGO, Kans., Nov. 20.—Four witnesses who had known the Bender family of murderers, yesterday identified the Michigan suspects as Kate Bender and her mother. The preliminary trial of the two women began yesterday, and was largely attended. C. B. Booth, T. C. Dick, J. A. Hanby and Mrs. Keick all declared positively that the woman known as Sarah Eliza Davis is the notorious Kate Bender, whose fiendish deeds were almost beyond belief. Two of the witnesses also testified that the elder woman, known as Elmira Griffin, is old Mrs. Bender, mother of Kate. G. B. Smith and Rudolph Brackman, the other two witnesses, agreed that the hair, eyes and size of the women compared with those of the Bender women. County Attorney Morrison and his associate are confident they have the Benders, and Judge Webb and Mr. James, the attorneys for the defence, last evening said the women would probably be bound over.

The Papal Revenue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Catholic News has received the following cablegram: "ROME, Nov. 20.—The pope has ordered that the personal and real property of all the cardinals who die and leave no relatives is to be bequeathed to the propaganda. Those having relatives must make a generous provision in their wills for the same institution. These and all other funds devoted to the use of the propaganda will be invested in foreign countries. This last regulation is to prevent the seizure of the papal revenues by the Italian government."

The Cronin Trial.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—In the Cronin trial to-day, further testimony was offered in behalf of O'Sullivan's alibi. Mat Dunahy, a member of Camp No. 2, and a saloon keeper, swore that Martin Burke was in his saloon from 7 to 10 o'clock on the night of May 4th. A number of members of the United Brotherhood testified that they had never heard of an inner circle. States Attorney Longnecker was placed on the stand by the defense and testified that Beggs had voluntarily told of his correspondence with District Officer Spellman, and told where the letters could be found. Chief of Police Hubbard then told of finding the letters at the place designated by Beggs. Adjourned until to-morrow.

Miners' Strike Ended.

HANCOCK, Mich., Nov. 20. — The strike at the Huron mine terminated yesterday. On Monday a German who attempted to go to work on the night shift was badly beaten. Yesterday morning, as a small force attempted to go to work, 62 strikers assaulted them with clubs and rocks. Sheriff Bodwen arrested four of the ringleaders, who have since been released on their own recognizance. The arrests terrified the strikers, and yesterday afternoon they notified the company that they were willing to go to work at the old wages. They will be taken back.

Meat Storehouse Burned.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 20.—At two o'clock this morning the three-story brick building at 21st and Jane streets, occupied by Charles Clause as a meat storage house, was entirely destroyed, with its contents of nearly 100,000 lbs. of fresh and salt meats. The large stables adjoining, owned by Keeling & Co., coal operators, were also damaged. In an attempt to liberate sixty head of horses from the burning stable a stampede occurred, during which a number of persons were knocked down and severely injured by the excited animals. Mr. Clause estimates his loss at $35,000.

CABLE NEWS.

John Morley's Speech at the Eighty Club.

Definite News of Stanley Received at Berlin.

The Increasing Scarcity of Beef in Berlin Swells the Demand for Horseflesh as a Substitute.

Morley on the Irish Question.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Morley, in a speech at the Eighty Club this evening, declared the social questions to which the radicals were seeking to give first place could by no possibility efface the Irish question, upon which the next election turned. Doubtless, he said, there were social injustices which demanded legislation, and there was no question that the rates ought to be reduced. The questions would receive the attention to which they were entitled; but even they could not overshadow the importance or delay the settlement of the matter of home rule for Ireland. He favored a system of free education, and free meals for poor school children, reform of the pauper system, and regulation of the matter of wages.

Consul Edward's Action.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The decision of the Washington government regarding the disputes which have arisen out of the action of Consul Edwards at Berlin in the matter of valuations, has caused great dissatisfaction among the German merchants, who now that the course of the consul has been upheld, see no way of obtaining redress for the injustices to which they claim they have been subjected.

Pleased With Morley's Speech.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Liberals are lavish in bestowing their praise on Mr. John Morley for his speech at the Eighty Club last night, and predict that the influence of his utterances will be far reaching and permanent. A few of them, however, take exceptions to the views he expressed with regard to an eight-hour system, but the general excellencies of his speech commend themselves so strongly to the party as a whole that these critics are impelled to forgive the speaker for his one disagreement with their opinions.

No Foreign Labor Wanted.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Prussian government has flatly refused to approve of the application of the coal masters in Prussian Selesia for permission to employ foreign miners instead of the native colliers, whose discontent during the last two years has caused so much trouble. Not only has the application been denied, but the government has also ordered the expulsion of such foreign laborers as the masters have already brought into competition with the native workmen.

Mrs. Parnell's Poverty.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Parnell's confessed ignorance of his mother's condition has created a bad impression generally, and the tories are making full use of the opinion thus created in their warfare against him. Ordinarily an explanation of the matter vouchsafed by the Irish leader would be accepted as conclusive, but in the circumstance of the lady's pressing need having become a matter of public notoriety before Mr. Parnell was aware of her condition, according to reports, it is held that a clear case of unfilial conduct and indifference is established against him. This is the tory view; but the rest of the Irish leader's friends and sympathisers are disposed to entertain a more charitable opinion and accept his statement liberally.

Accident to a Judge.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Justice Day of the Parnell commission, was knocked down by a cab this morning while on his way to court. He proceeded to his destination and took his seat on the bench, but was unable to remain during the session. He was assisted to retire, when he withdrew from the court. His injuries are not considered serious.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Sir Henry James, in resuming his address before the Parnell commission yesterday, said that the large amount of money sent to the members of the national league, accounted for the wide scope for the belief that it was used in evil doings. He declared that the money of the league was used to defend other than agrarian prisoners.

Importation of Cattle to Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—In the Reichstag to-day the debate on the question of rescinding the law prohibiting the importation of cattle was resumed and conducted with great warmth. The motion to rescind the law was finally rejected, as was also a motion permitting the free importation of swine shipped direct to the slaughter house.

Dwellings for the Poor.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The celebrated brewing establishment of Guinness & Sons have donated the sum of £20,000 for the purpose of erecting dwellings for the laboring poor in London, and £50,000 for a like purpose in Dublin.

Threatened Revolt in Spain.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Senor Castelar, the Spanish Republican statesman, has started for Madrid. His sudden and unexpected return to that city at this particular juncture is regarded with sussuspicion in political circles, and it is feared that a revolt may occur against the present Spanish Regime.

Socialists on Trial.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The trial of ninety-one social democrats, on a charge of belonging to a revolutionary service, began at Alberfeld to-day. Among the prisoners were four members of the Reichstag.

Meat Famine in Berlin.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The increasing scarcity of beef in Berlin and the constant rise in price of the limited supply have so swelled the demand for horse flesh as a substitute, that the butchers severely taxed to obtain sufficient stock to satisfy their customers. Horse meat is now selling at 7 pence per pound, and the price is rapidly following that of beef, out of the reach of the poor classes.

News of Stanley.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The Richsanzinger has published a despatch from Capt. Wissman, dated Mywapwa, Oct. 13th, stating that four of Stanley's soldiers and one of Emin's men had arrived there. They report that they left Stanley at Newkmma on Aug. 10th, and travelled via Noembo and Mwerieweri, thence north to Ugogo, completing the journey in 33 days, including nine days spent in resting. Emin and Casisi had with them 300 Soudanese soldiers and a large number of other people, conveying a great quantity of ivory. Stanley was bringing with him 240 Zanzibars and six lieutenants, Nelson, Jepson, Stairs, Park, Boney and Williams.

News of Dr. Peters.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The Emin Bey relief committee has received a cablegram stating that letters from Dr. Peters, dated October 8th, had reached Lamos. The expedition was then at Korkorros, and all was well. From this, it is argued here, that the reported massacre of Dr. Peters and party is untrue.

BLANCHE DOUGLASS IS DEAD.

With Her Died the Secret of the Murder of Jennie Cramer.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—It has been discovered that Blanche Douglass, the notorious woman who testified at the trial of the Malley brothers, at New Haven, for the murder of Jennie Cramer some years ago, which created a national sensation, died in one of the lowest dives in this city last Thursday. With her death goes all hope of explaining the fate of Jennie Cramer, as aside from her nobody knew except the Malleys, and they are not likely to say anything about it.

WESTMINSTER SPECIAL.

Mr. Miller, of Sumas, a Heavy Loser by the Gale.

A Large Slice of the River Bank Caved In, Carrying with it Outbuildings Filled with Produce.

From our own Correspondent.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 30.—Mr. Miller, of Sumas, is again a heavy loser, During the storm on Sunday a great slice of the river bank caved in, carrying with it several outbuildings, filled with produce and farm implements, also a cow and horse. Nothing was saved, and Mr. Miller's loss is very heavy. It was feared the Fraser would break through into Sumas Lake on Sunday. The Surrey dyke and dam will be finished in ten days. It is a very fine piece of work.

LATEST ALASKA NEWS.

Suicide of J. E. Cronnover at Juneau.

Favorable Reports from the Mines—Placer Mining Closed for the Season—Large Deal on Sheep Creek.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder last night brought late Alaska papers, from which the following interesting news is obtained:—

On the morning of the 9th inst., J. F. Cronnover committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart with a Winchester rifle. Before shooting himself he wrote letters clearly proving that the deed was premeditated, but in them gives no cause why he sought his own destruction. Deceased has a father and brother living at Marble Falls, Texas.

Jack Fisher and S. Gibson give a very favorable report of Lemon and Salmon creek properties. The surface croppings show a large and well-defined vein which averages well in free gold.

In a few days active development work will be commenced on Sheridan lode, situated at the head of Sheep creek basin, which property is now under bond to A. P. Swineford.

Development work on the Silver Queen still continues.

John Treadwell and N. A. Fuller are now developing their coal interests at Coal Harbor. The same, we learn, are very valuable.

All placer mining in Silver Bow Basin is now closed down, except the driving of the Nowell tunnel, on account of scarcity of water. The Nowell tunnel is being driven at the rate of about seven feet a day.

Another important mining deal was made on Sheep Creek properties this week, A. P. Swineford purchasing from James McDonald, Fred Hyde, L. L. Williams and Frank Howard the Sheridan, Gray Eagle and Mamie lodes, consideration $33,000. This group of claims was discovered during the past season. The veins show a rich bromide and brittle silver ore from the surface, samples of which have given returns of several hundred dollars per ton.

On Sunday the 3rd inst. the U. S. warship Thetis arrived in port, having aboard Governor Knapp. The Governor is on a cruise through Southeastern Alaska, that he may better acquaint himself with the requirements of the different sections.

The pastime of smuggling whiskey off the mail steamers while alongside the dock, is getting to be quite a dangerous undertaking, as the occupant of a canoe which attempted to get a load off the Corona can testify, if they will. The guards on the steamer fired five shots at them after they had refused to halt when commanded, but in the extremely high wind, pitchy darkness and heavy rain their aim was uncertain, and though one of the men in the boat uttered a yell when out in the channel, it is not believed that either was hit.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Brutal Chinese Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—A Chinese merchant, named Pun Gays, was murdered early yesterday morning by an unknown assassin, who adopted the method of "Jack the Ripper." He slashed his victim over the abdomen with a sharp knife, making a ghastly wound, through which his bowels escaped. Then the murderer departed with a sack containing $650. Gays was found by his partner lying dead in the doorway of the bedroom. There is no clue. The bloody sheath knife was found near the body. His partners say he told them he had money which he expected to pay out on Tuesday, and they warned him of burglars.

The Benders found Guilty.

Large Deposit of Petroleum.

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—A large deposit of petroleum has just been discovered in Gaspe county. Mr. Foley, of Boston, representing a company of capitalists, has purchased 50,000 acres, and they will at once begin operations.

Steel Steamer Aground.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Nov. 20.—The steel steamer Rosedale, downward bound, laden with 38,000 bushels of wheat from Fort William, Ont., ran aground yesterday on Rock Shoal above Topsail Island in Canadian waters, and she is out over three feet forward, with her forward compartments stove in and filled. A request to release her with an Ameritan outfit has been telegraphed to the Canadian authorities, but no answer has yet been received.

Family of Indians Murdered.

CALGARY, Nov. 20.—A party while out with Mr. Pearce, inspector of mines, looking up land about a mile north of Cheadle station, came across an old Indian encampment. On searching they found the skeletons of three Indians, a squaw and a papoose, and two horses. The whole party must have been murdered while they slept in their tepees. The skulls were brought to Calgary.

Lord Stanley's Western Trip.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—The Vice-Regal party on their recent trip travelled some 7,000 miles and are none the worse for their journeying. All the members are in excellent health. His Excellency, during his absence, has replied to 60 addresses. His Excellency will now stay in Ottawa for the winter. Hon. Edward and Lady Alice Stanley leave for England on Monday.

Immoral Literature.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—A consignment of Zola's works, consigned to a Hamilton bookseller, have been seized by the customs officials and condemned. There is a clause in the tariff which prohibits the importation of immoral literature.

Defrauding the Revenue.

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—Gigantic frauds on the revenue, discovered in Quebec, are the sensation of the hour. The customs officials estimate that the federal treasury was defrauded last year by whiskey smugglers, at Quebec, alone, of a sum considerably in excess of $250,000. The seizures thus far in this vicinity foot up 117 barrels of 50 gallons each, upon which the duty should be $2.50 per gallon. This would make $140,000 that the smugglers should have paid, but there is no ascertaining how much they have already defrauded the revenue out of to the injury of legitimate trade.

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Major Drumm left for Kansas City to-day, taking with him the $35,000 found on Saturday. He says he will not prosecute his nephew.

The Third Party.

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Rev. Dr. Sutherland, leader of the third party, in an interview says he regards the vote for McRae in West Lambton as very satisfactory. He says the new party will now be pushed in all the constituencies. Latest returns show Mackenzie led Fleck by 651, with one division to hear from that will no doubt increase his majority to 700. He has already a small majority over the two candidates.

C. P. R. Officials Confer With the Government.

Funeral of the Late Law Clerk of the House of Commons – Archbishop Duhamel on Masonry.

From our own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—Another conference between Canadian Pacific Railway officials and the Government was held to-day, but there was nothing definite therefrom.

Archbishop Duhamel, who has just returned from Washington, says he did not hear a word about removing the ban from the Masonic order.

The funeral of Mr. Wilson, late law clerk of the Commons, was largely attended.

MORMONS IN CANADA.

Prospect of a Large Influx of Exiles From Utah.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 18.—A number of leading Mormons from Salt Lake City are at present visiting the Mormon colony near Macleod. The party of visitors includes President Woodruff, of the Mormon church, and Mrs. Woodruff, George Q. Cannon, late territorial representative for Utah in the American congress, and Mrs. Cannon, Brigham Young, jr., and a Mr. Smith, nephew of the Mormon prophet, Joseph Smith. They will stay some time at the Mormon settlement.

Indications are that there will be a large influx of Mormons into the Northwest.

THE WHALING FLEET.

Three more steamers of the Pacific steam whaling fleet have arrived at San Francisco. The Balaena, seventeen days from Fox island, brought a cargo of 225 barrels of oil and 4,000 pounds of bone. The Norwhal and the Orca also arrived. The first named caught seven whales during the season and the Orca four. The Norwhal brought in 450 barrels of oil, and 7,500 pounds of bone. The Orca had 300 barrels of oil, and 5,000 pounds of bone.

All of the whalers which sailed from San Francisco for the Okhotsk sea are in with the exception of the E. F. Herriman. No report has been received of her catch, however, and she has not been heard of since she left port. She sailed on March 17th. She is owned by Magee & Moore, who also owned the whaling schooner James A. Hamilton, of the Arctic fleet, which was lost this season on her way north. Her owners feel no uneasiness about the Herriman, as they do not expect her until the 20th of this month.

THE COUNTRY'S NEEDS.

It must be clear to everyone that the man who represents the people must, to do his duty at all effectively, know the people. That knowledge can only be obtained by close and frequent intercourse. Every district has its own peculiar needs. Matters which are of great importance to its inhabitants are scarcely ever heard of, and, where their circumstances are not well known, appear to be hardly worth considering. But it is these little things that affect the every day life of the people and have the most immediate bearing on their welfare, that are most apt to be overlooked. The construction of a bridge or the opening of a road in some distant part of the country may not appear to a gentleman sitting in his office in Victoria to be of much consequence, but hundreds of people may be greatly benefitted by the work being promptly done, or seriously inconvenienced by its being delayed or neglected. The comfort of the people and the prosperity of the country in a very great measure depend upon a thousand and one things, each of apparently little importance, being carefully attended to. In a country such as this where there are few municipalities and where the general legislature is required to attend to all matters of public concern, small as well as great, the more the leader of the Government knows about each district the better. In no way can he get the information he needs so well as by personal observation. It is not safe always to depend upon the reports of individual residents. They may be, and often are, interested in misrepresenting the position of affairs. Many, we regret to say, who have axes of their own to grind, do not scruple to make statements that are intended rather to advance their own private interests than to further the public welfare. Reports are often misleading, and it will not do to leave matters to be attended to by subordinates. Public officials are apt to consider the department first. The habit of thinking that the country was made for the department, and not the department for the country, grows on them. One advantage of placing men who have not been trained in the public service at the heads of the departments is that they have not acquired this habit, but coming fresh from the people, they look at matters relating to the public from the people's point of view. And the head of a department will, if he is wise, take good care to keep in touch with the people. In no way can he do this better than by visiting all parts of the country as frequently as he can find time. The time which a member of the Government, and particularly its leader, spends in going from one part of the country to the other is profitably employed. Mr. Robson, for instance, we venture to say by his trip to Alberni learned more of the actual condition of that part of the province than if he had kept on listening to what people said of it for three years. When it is his duty to provide for the wants of Alberni he will now know exactly what to do, and he will know also what value to place on the suggestions of those who undertake to advise him as to the needs of Alberni. As with Alberni so of other parts of the country. It is simply impossible to get the knowledge that the gentleman entrusted with the administration of the affairs of the province ought to have, by sitting in his office in Victoria, let him be ever so diligent and ever so desirous to do his duty well and faithfully. The head of a department is not a mere clerk. Almost any one can do a clerk's work, but it takes a man of judgment and discretion, possessing all the information he can possibly obtain, properly to superintend the working of one of the departments of the Government. Knowing this we are glad to see the Leader of the Government taking the proper means to qualify himself properly to perform the duties of his high and very responsible position.

There is another advantage which a public man gains by visiting the parts of the country distant from the capital which should not be lost sight of. He gives the people the opportunity of learning by personal observation what manner of man he is. Some newspapers, as every one knows, are not at all particular what they say of a public man. If they are opposed to him they do not scruple to represent him to the people as a kind of monster. They attribute to him the very worst motives, and they describe him as being utterly devoid of principle. For example, some of the people know nothing about Mr. Robson except from what they see in the Times. The opinions which these good people, obtaining their information from such a source, must form of him, all will allow, are very far indeed from being correct. When they see the leader of the Government and hear what he has to say for himself, those of them who are intelligent and fair-minded find that the man as he is, is indeed very different from what he is described to be by the Opposition newspapers. They will in a short time get clear of their misconceptions as to his character and will be in a position to judge him fairly by his public acts. In justice to themselves, then, public men should go among the people.

In these days, too, there is in all free countries a parliament out of doors. The people want to hear public affairs discussed by the men who direct them and who are most conversant with them. They are not satisfied with reports of speeches. They want to be instructed by the living voice; they desire to hear the men themselves, and in obedience to this demand Britain's public men who have the gift of oratory, and some who have not, frequently address the people on the questions of the day. They recognize the necessity of giving the people who have the power to choose the rulers of the country and to direct its policy, the information necessary to enable them to exercise that power intelligently and for the good of the nation. That necessity exists here as well as in other countries, and the journalist is a long way behind the times who finds fault with a Leader of a Government because he addresses popular audiences.

WOMEN AS SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.

There are some people in New York who are opposed to having women appointed school commissioners. These people are principally politicians who wish to make the School Board a political engine. They do not like the women commissioners because they are not politician and cannot be made politicians. They attend to their duties without caring what party they please or what party they displease. And those who are best able to judge say that they perform their duties well. It is but reasonable to suppose that they should. A very large proportion of the teachers are women, and nearly, if not quite one-half, the pupils are girls. This being the case, what is more reasonable than having capable women on the school board. In England, as soon as the school boards were made elective, women became candidates, and they have been found to be zealous and efficient. It can easily be understood how desirable it is to give intelligent, conscientious women a share in the management of schools in which children of both sexes are taught. It is said that the women teachers of New York are not at all favorable to being under the supervision of women. The reason given for this by some plain-spoken ladies and some "brutes" of men is that it is not so easy to humbug women commissioners as men commissioners. When it is necessary to enquire into the shortcomings of women teachers the women commissioners think of business and of nothing else, but the men are more sympathetic and are apt to overlook a fault in a woman which they would not tolerate in a man. Women, too, have more time to devote to the duties of their office than men, and as we have seen most careful and conscientious in their discharge. A man who has a business to attend to, large or small, cannot afford much time to look after the public schools, while the woman who would accept the office would give it her almost undivided attention. It seems to us that the superintendence of the education of the community is a duty for which women are peculiarly fitted, and one in which they ought to have a share. The politicians of New York will not be able to take from the women their share of the management of the public schools.

ANONYMOUS JOURNALISM.

Anonymity in journalism is discussed in the New Review for November. The opinions of many eminent journalists on the subject are published. The greater number of those interviewed are of the opinion that it is better that the political articles of newspapers should be anonymous—that the editorial "we" has more influence than the personal "I." As far as the public are concerned, we cannot see that it matters much whether an article is signed or unsigned. If an article is good a name at the end of it will not make it better, and if it is bad the best name in the world can not make it good. The public are concerned with the quality of the article, not with the man or woman who wrote it.

The anonymous system is hard on the better class of writers. On one of the great papers the leader writer's individuality is completely lost. He may go on for years writing the most brilliant articles, articles that go far to make the reputation of the paper, and the public which he has instructed and delighted may be completely ignorant of his existence. That he writes for the journal may be known to a few people, principally journalists, but as far as the rest of the world is concerned he is unknown to fame. The newspaper has robbed him of his reputation. In France, where newspaper articles are all signed, the status of the journalist is much higher than in either England or America where the anonymous system prevails. There an able writer soon attracts public attention, and he gets all the credit for his work that he deserves—perhaps a good deal more. Journalism in France is much more frequently a stepping stone to political distinction than it is either in Great Britain or America.

One of the persons consulted by the New Review was Mr. Gladstone. He said:

"My opinions are decidedly favorable to making known the authorship of articles. I have myself only thrice in the course of my life written with the intention of secrecy. This was only for a time, and only because the obtrusion of my personality would, at the moment, as I thought, be officious and unbecoming. Lord Brougham was in favor of extending the rule to newspapers. The point is difficult, but there is much to be said in favor of his view."

Mr. Edward R. Russel, editor of the Liverpool Post, considers that the signing of articles—

"would not conduce either to the excellence or the influence of newspapers, as it would develop instead of repressing the egotisms and peculiarities of members of the staff. A newspaper should have an individuality, a record, a continuity, a policy, and even a manner independent of the personnel; and it should be the business of the editor to keep these up just as much as, and in the same degree as, a Prime Minister maintains the homogeneity and reasonable consistency of his cabinet."

Dr. Russell, the famous Bull Run Russell, says:

"There is a newspaper view as well as a larger view to be regarded. The maintenance of the incognito in the case of leader writers is, I think, calculated to encourage freedom of expression, and the treatment of subjects with the sense of confidence that one feels in writing a letter to a friend. That feeling of perfect independence would be lost if one were writing to a friend who was about to publish the correspondence 'urbi et orbi.'"

Mr. G. W. Smalley, the London correspondent of the New York Tribune, writes:

"As to the question whether articles should be signed, opinions differ widely. Those who are in favor of anonymous journalism contend that unsigned articles have more power, as representing the collective opinion of men whose aim is to do their best to enlighten the public, and that the author remaining unknown is not tempted to assert his individuality. In signed articles, they say, the writer is more inclined to call attention to himself than to discuss and argue dispassionately."

It is significent that the professional journalists whose opinions are given in the Review favor anonymous journalism to a man.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

It is amusing to witness the vagaries of the organ of the Opposition. With one breath it denounces the Government for appropriating so niggardly a sum as ten thousand dollars for a court house in New Westminster, and with the next it accuses it of bribing the electors of that city by promising them a court house. To appropriate a sum altogether insufficient for a much needed public work and then to compel the citizens to wait two years for one adequate to their wants, is certainly a very peculiar way of bribing them. The Times must have a very low opinion of the electors who, as it alleges, have sold themselves so cheaply.

SENATOR STANFORD'S filly Sunol is the most promising of American trotters. It is expected that when she gets older and stronger and has more experience she will beat Maud S's record. She made not long ago a mile in 2.10½, which is much better than Maud S. could do at her age. The best time the old mare ever made was 2.08¾, when she was eleven years old. The California filly's performance was, the turfmen say, better for her age than that of Maud S. Racing men begin to talk of the possibility of a mile in two minutes.

TEN THOUSAND HORSES.

THE UNITED STATES TAKES PRIDE IN FOUR-FOOTED STOCK.

All the Animals Are Required to Conform with Certain Regulations—A Horse Generally Lasts Six Years, and Is Then Sold to the Highest Bidder.

Whenever, upon the occasion of any public parade, the cavalry stationed at the garrison at Fort Myer forms part of the procession, the magnificent appearance of the horses excites the universal admiration of the spectators. Their size, for they are above the ordinary build, suggests in itself the idea of strength, while the uniformly shaped head and large, prominent eyes tell of the intelligence of the animal.

It is said that France expends annually $300,000 in the improvement of her horses, with a view of obtaining hardy bred animals, whose endurance makes them especially valuable for such irregular services as is required of the Cossacks of Russia, the Uhlans of Germany, and our mounted infantry.

THEY HAVE TO BE GOOD ONES.

The United States does not spend nearly so much, but it secures a class of horses high above the average, and by proper and humane treatment loses but a small percentage of them. Moreover, the animal when it becomes the property of Uncle Sam fares better than its fellows, and ordinarily its life is continued in the service for some years beyond that of the horses of other armies.

Congress annually appropriates about $200,000 to be expended in the purchase of horses. This amount is divided pro rata among the divisions of the army, those on the Atlantic coast not requiring as large a sum as the cavalry on the frontier, where the life of the animal is not altogether one of lazy contentment. In Arizona, especially, the equine mortality is greater than in any other section, and more horses become disabled and unfit for further service. The burning sands and alkali deserts lead to blindness and diseases of the hoof, and the animal has either to be shot or sold. The lack of proper pasturage and feed also cuts an important figure in the life of the cavalry horse in the remote garrisons of the west, for while his eastern brother is feeding luxuriantly on a full allowance of oats and corn twice a day and sleeping in a comfortable stable, the western horse is making a scanty meal on husks and sleeping in a ramshackle building that seems to have been especially constructed for a free circulation of air.

There are nearly 10,000 horses in use by the United States army. Of this number about 10 per cent. are sold annually because of their unfitness for further cavalry or artillery duty, and about 5 per cent. are lost by death. So, in order to maintain the standard, it is necessary to purchase about 1,500 animals every year. When the stock of a garrison needs replenishing the quartermaster general department is notified. An advertisement inviting bids is inserted in the prominent papers and a contract entered into with the lowest bidder to deliver the horses at the desired point, if, after a suitable inspection by the secretary of war, they meet the requirements of the standard fixed by the army regulations. The regulations require that the horse shall be a gelding of uniform and hardy color; from fifteen to seventeen hands high; from 4 to 8 years old, and weighing between 900 and 1,200 pounds for a cavalry horse, and between 1,050 and 1,300 for artillery horses. There are other requirements necessary, such as the general build of the animals and their health. Whenever it becomes necessary to purchase the half breed horses of California or southern Texas the standard of the height is reduced to fourteen and one-half hands.

A COMPLETE RECORD KEPT.

Most of the horses used in the army are purchased in St. Louis and Louisville, although the general rule of late has been to obtain the animals in the neighborhood in which they are desired for use, the idea being to obtain thoroughly acclimated animals. The average cost of a horse is a trifle over $134.

As soon as the purchase is completed the horse is branded with the letters "U. S." on the left fore shoulder, and a complete descriptive list is made of him, which always accompanies him wherever he is transferred. The horses are distributed by the regimental commander, and the riders or drivers are not allowed to exchange them or permit any one else to use them.

With every troop of cavalry a record of the animals is kept, containing the description of every one received and transferred, showing the kind, name, age, size, color, marks, brands or other peculiarities, how and when acquired and disposed of, the name of its rider and driver, and the use to which it is applied.

The forage ration for a horse is fourteen pounds of hay and twelve pounds of oats, corn or barley, and in special cases of hard service or exposure the grain ration is usually increased three pounds. In localities where good grazing is practicable for a considerable portion of the day, or during seasons when little labor is required of the animals, the ration is usually reduced.

The animals usually last about six years, and at the end of that time are sold at auction, or before, if they are disabled so as to be unfit for service. When sold the officer puts another brand on the horse, making it impossible for the horse to be sold to the government at some other point. Condemned animals do not bring very much. They are worthless for carriage purposes, and are too much worn out to be fit for the more arduous work of street car hauling. They are usually sold to contractors, who employ them in hauling small loads. But the army horse does not last long after he drops out of the service. Usually he does not amount to much when the government has no further use for his services, and his career thereafter is as short as it is uneventful.—Washington Post.

BY-LAW,

Granting the right and privilege of erecting, constructing, maintaining and operating a District Telegraph System in the City of Victoria, Province of British Columbia, to the undermentioned persons or their assigns.

BE IT ENACTED, by the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, as follows:—

Section 1.—That F. F. Clark, C. G. Perkins and J. F. McIntyre, of Port Townsend, W.T., and F. G. Richards, Jr., of Victoria, Province of British Columbia, and their assigns, hereinafter called "grantees," be and they hereby are granted for the period of 50 years, the right and privilege of erecting, constructing, maintaining, and operating and using in, along, and over and under any and all the streets of the City of Victoria, what is known as the District Telegraph System.

Section 2.—The said grantees shall have the right to and shall erect the poles and stretch the wires of their said Telegraph System so as not to interfere with the free and unobstructed use of the streets for travel, and shall erect the poles of their telegraph at such points in the streets and place the wires of their telegraph at such points and at such height as shall be designated by the street committee of said city. Said poles shall be dressed and painted in a neat and satisfactory manner and shall not be less than thirty (30) feet in height and properly proportioned throughout, subject to the direction and control of the committee on street improvements of said city.

Section 3.—That whenever it shall become necessary for the erection or repair of such telegraph for said grantees to dig into or in any manner interfere with any public street or any part thereof, the grantees and their assigns shall have the right so to do, and shall without delay put the street in as good condition as it was before it was so broken up, dug or disturbed, and shall remove from the street all surplus sand, earth, rubbish or other material caused thereby.

Section 4.—That whenever any person or persons, company or corporation, shall have obtained permission of the committee on streets and public property to remove any building, structure or edifice through any street or streets of said city of Victoria, with which the lines or wires of the grantees shall in any manner interfere, the said grantees shall, upon twenty-four hours notice from such person or persons, company or corporation, raise or remove said lines or wires so as to allow free and unobstructed passage of any such building, structure or edifice, and if the said grantees shall neglect or refuse upon such notice to remove or raise such line or lines, said line or lines shall be removed or raised by the street commissioner at the expense of said grantees so as to admit of the free passage of such building or other edifice or structure.

Section 5.—That whenever it shall be necessary in grading any street or alley of said city, or in building any sidewalk, or making any other improvement thereon, to remove any pole or poles belonging to said grantees, or on which any line or lines, wire or wires, belonging to said grantees shall be stretched or fastened, the said grantees shall, upon receiving twenty-four hours notice from the contractor, or other person having charge of such grading or other improvement, remove such pole or poles, and if said grantees upon such notice shall neglect or refuse to move such pole or poles, then such pole or poles shall be removed by the street commissioner at the expense of said grantees.

Section 6.—That it shall be unlawful for any person unless authorized by said grantees to interfere, meddle with, injure or remove any of the telegraph poles, wires, boxes or apparatus belonging or appertaining to said telegraph system. Provided, however, that the poles and other apparatus of said grantees may be removed in the manner provided in Section 5 hereof.

Section 7.—That the said grantees hereby agree and covenant to indemnify the Corporation of the City of Victoria from any injury arising from or any casualty or accident to person or property by reason of any neglect or omission to keep said poles and wires in a safe condition, and for all valid claims against said city for damage caused by said poles or wires, or by any works, alterations, repairs or improvements in connection with the works herein contemplated.

Section 8.—That the Corporation of the City of Victoria reserves the right to repeal or amend this By-law whenever in the judgment of the common council of said city an amendment or repeal is necessary, having due regard, however, for the vested rights of the parties hereunder.

Section 9.—In the construction of the works herein contemplated the said grantees shall use the poles in the principal streets of the city at present used by the Telephone and Victoria Electric Illuminating Co., so far as possible, so as to avoid the erecting of any additional poles on said streets.

Section 10.—That the said company shall file the acceptance of the conditions hereof and commence the work of construction within six months from the date of the approval hereof, otherwise this by-law shall be null and void.

Section 11.—This By-Law shall take effect and be of force upon the filing of said acceptance, and from and after the same shall have been published for seven days.

Section 12.—That the grantees shall, whenever ordered by the corporation of the City of Victoria place their wires underground, and in respect of removing and so placing of their wires undergrond shall have no claim upon said corporation in respect of vested rights or otherwise, provided, however, that said corporation shall not so order said grantees unless a general order to the same effect be issued to other persons or companies having overhead wires in the streets of said city.

This By-Law may be cited as the "District Telegraph By-Law."

Passed, the Municipal Council the 30th day of October, A. D. 1889. Reconsidered and finally passed the Council this 13th day of November, A. D. 1889.

Found Dead.

At about noon yesterday Mr. G. C. Gerow, with a friend of his, called at the cabin on Johnson street near Douglas for many years occupied by Mr. John Woods, and receiving no answer to their knock at the door, entered. They were startled to see lying on the floor the body of their friend, stiff and cold in death, which had evidently overtaken him during the previous night, for the lamp was still burning dimly on the table and the dead man was dressed for the street. The deceased was an unmarried man in the neighborhood of 54 years of age, and had lived many years in Victoria and accumulated considerable property here. His sudden death was not altogether unexpected as he was known to be afflicted with heart disease. Being an Oddfellow, the funeral will be taken charge of by that order.

The Barristers' Banquet.

For the daintiness and pretty decoration of the tables, for the appetising nature of the spread and for the quality of the wit that flowed after the substantials had disappeared, the barristers' banquet given at the Poodle Dog last evening in honor of Mr. Justice Drake eclipsed any convivial affair of the kind ever before given in the province. Covers were laid for 26, members of the law society from the cities of the Mainland as well as Victoria being present to do honor to their late colleague. Hon. Theodore Davie, attorney-general, presided; with the guest of the evening at his right, and Mr. Charles Wilson in the vice-chair. The toast list was not a long one, but the speeches were such good samples of after dinner oratory that they deserved to be given to the world of diners out as models of what good speeches should be. The merry gathering broke up shortly after midnight, everyone having been satisfied with its success.

A Happy Union.

"Two souls with but a single thought,
Two hearts that beat as one."

About five months ago James Bishop Parfitt left England and a loving-hearted fiancee to seek his fortune in British Columbia. He came to Victoria where he found steady and profitable employment. He liked the country, saved his money, and sent for Elizabeth Moon, which, as the marriage license unblushingly told, was the name of his fair betrothed, to come west and link her fortunes with his. On Tuesday James Bishop Parfitt went over to Vancouver, armed himself with the necessary documents, and had Rev. E. Robson in waiting when the train, upon which Miss Moon was expected, arrived. The young man was evidently strongly imbued with the spirit of the maxim that "procrastination is the thief of time," and as he desired Miss Moon to come to Victoria with him as Mrs. Parfitt, there was no time to be lost. The minister entered thoroughly into sympathy with the feelings of the young couple, and forthwith conducted them into Mr. Connon's office on the C. P. R. Wharf, and without any unnecessary ceremony made them man and wife. Mr. Connon not only cheerfully granted the use of his office for the purpose of facilitating matters, but acted in the capacity of leading support in the marriage act and made valid the papers by his signature. Mr. and Mrs. Parfitt then left for Victoria on the Islander as securely bound for life and as happy as if all the formalities of fashionable decorum had been brought to bear on the linking process.

Social Reception.

The first of the winter series of receptions was held last evening in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment, which was in charge of the reception committee, was well attended. An entertaining program of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., was given, and refreshments were served during the evening. All present were highly delighted with the evening's amusements, and expressed a hope that these social events might be held more often than in previous years.

Trade Notes.

The Walla Wall, which left for San Francisco yesterday afternoon, took down a large freight, consisting of 330 tons of coal, 750 grain and 645 merchandise, from Sound ports, and 610 cases and 120 half barrels salmon, 15 tons hides and 10 tons rice from Victoria.

The Olympian brought over two car loads crackers and one of merchandise last evening.

The Islander's freight last night consisted of one car load dried fruit and one car merchandise.

A Corner in Potatoes.

The Nanaimo Free Press reports that a corner in potatoes has been carried into effect by a Victoria syndicate, headed by Mayor Grant, Uriah Nelson and others. They have secured no less than 500 tons of the tubers, which they have carefully stored away awaiting a rise in the market. The operators in this arrangement assert that potatoes cannot be imported from either San Francisco or the Sound, as they are a scarce commodity in the sections mentioned. This is not a potato trust, but a potato ring.

A Plucky Rescue.

On Sunday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock four men left the Bon Accord cannery, on the Fraser river, in a sailboat for up river. A tremendous gust of wind came along, caught the little jib and before the men well knew what had happened they were struggling in the water alongside their capsized boat. The water was very cold and the men were rapidly becoming numb, and certainly could not have held on much longer when a gentleman named Kelly, who witnessed the accident, put out and at the risk of his own life rescued the men and brought them safely ashore.

The Late Capt. Grant.

Capt. Angus Grant, who died at Westminster on Tuesday, was the first native of Nova Scotia to take a vessel across the Atlantic Ocean, and he was one of the principal witnesses before the Halifax Fishery Commissioners. One of the late Captain's brothers is Mr. Peter Grant of the Customs' Department, as is also Captain C. G. Grant, both residents of Westminster. He leaves a wife and twelve children, three boys and nine girls. Capt. Grant's wife has had an active and adventurous career; having passed the most part of her life on board ship. The funeral will take place this afternoon.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The City Fathers held their regular weekly meeting last night, the Mayor in the chair and Ald. Harris alone absent.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From H. E. Moffat, asking the council to endorse the statement that a World's Fair held in Chicago in '92 would be of more benefit to the Dominion interests than one in New York. Tabled.

From Robt. Porter & Sons complaining of the condition of crossings at the corner of Douglas and Johnson streets. Referred to the street committee.

From James L. Raymur, calling attention to the sinking funds of the first four loans affected by the council by by-law, and which would require an increase in the annual payments to make up for amounts drawn out, and provide for payment of debentures on maturity. Referred to the finance committee.

From James L. Raymour, enclosing financial statement for the year up to November 1st, 1889. Received and filed.

From H. Kent, calling attention to the bad condition of Yates street. Referred to the street committee, with power to act.

From J. W. McConnell, asking that a box drain and a sidewalk be provided on Michigan street. Referred to the street committee, with power to act.

From Capt. E. Gray Hulton, of H. M. S. Amphion, thanking the city for the use of the Tiger fire engine, and offering to pay for the services rendered. Referred to the fire wardens, no charge to be made.

TENDERS.

On tenders being opened that of Mr. Jas. Baker at $747, was accepted for gravelling Belcher street. Mr. James Baker also received the contract for gravelling View street, his tender of $1570 being the lowest.

The tenders for constructing fire tanks were opened and came in for a long discussion. Ald. Coughlan and McKillican contended that they were not needed; Ald. Harrison, Vigilius, Wilson and Kelly favored their construction. The matter was laid over for one week.

A tender for the construction of a new steel main was received from the Albion Iron Works Co., the approximated price being less than $25,000. The matter was referred to the water committee and commissioners for report.

REPORT.

From the street committee, recommending the laying of box drains on Menzies, Carr and Niagara streets; the grading of Chatham street, Spring Ridge, provided the property owners give sufficient land to make the street forty feet wide; the laying of sidewalks on Bay and David streets; and repairing of Douglas street.

The reading of this report was followed by an exchange of recriminations between Ald. Harrison and Coughlan. The question was settled by adopting the report.

HARRISON STREET.

A report on the condition of Harrison street was asked for and the street committee were authorized to have plans prepared to put it in order.

ELECTRIC WIRES.

The electric light committee reported on the petition of the linemen and others, and advised that the live wire of the tramway be protected. The report was adopted.

His worship stated that the tramway company had already arranged for the proper protection of their wires.

MONTREAL HERALD.

His Worship informed the board that 1,000 copies of the Montreal Herald were to hand, and suggested that the public be allowed to get copies free on application at the city hall.

The board agreed to have the copies so distributed.

OTHER MATTERS.

The mayor drew attention to the fact that the enlargement of the cemetery should be taken up; that water pipes should be laid in a bed of clay; that the paper mill bonus should be attended to, and that a very dangerous building on Wharf street should be pulled down at once.

On motion the city surveyor was instructed to see to the old building, the owners to be notified to remove it at once.

The meeting adjourned at 10.15 p. m.

MODEL TENEMENTS.

An Indication of the Growing Value of Real Estate in Victoria.

The rapidly growing value of Victoria real estate is every day becoming more and more appreciated, and the economy of space is in consequence beginning to interest property owners as it never has before. Model tenements are making their appearance in the city, instead of less comfortable detached houses, a very creditable sample of the former class of homes being now in course of erection on Chatham street.

The tenement is being built by Mr. H. E. Levy, a Seattle capitalist, who is the owner of similar property in each of the Sound cities. It consists of six homes with a depth of 120 feet, each containing six rooms, with baths, kitchen, and all conveniences, and supplied with hot and cold water, electric bells, etc. In the middle is a courtyard, with an arch driveway to the rear. The cost of the tenement will be about $6,000, and the work is being done by day labor with Mr. Charles Cooper as foreman. Another of the same style will be erected here in the spring by the same enterprising Seattleite.

At one of the late scientific conventions an investigation was made as to what caused left-leggedness, and this important subject was gone into very minutely. This is very interesting to the scientific mind. A REPETITION DEMANDED.

St. Andrew's Bazaar so Great a Success that it will be Given Again To-Night.

The first occasion on which the public were allowed to see the inside of the handsome building which the members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church have erected at the corner of Douglas and Broughton streets was yesterday. True it was not the opening of the massive church edifice itself, but it was a genuine house warming, and as such will long be remembered with pleasure by those who attended the annual bazaar.

At 2 o'clock the school room was thrown open and the public soon commenced to pour in, to admire the charming arrangements of the room itself as well as the many articles of plain and fancy work offered for sale in tempting profusion.

The collection of pretty articles was far above the average of church fairs while the prices charged were much below—an uncommon combination greatly appreciated by the visitors. Although a brief outline of the arrangements of the room was given yesterday morning, a fuller description was merited by its finished beauty. The dais at the upper end of the room, where an excellent concert was given during the evening, was a veritable little conservatory, flowers and foliage plants being arranged on all sides to produce an effect at once graceful and unique. The flower stall came next; sweet, fragrant bouquets, both great and little, being provided by the Misses Amy Carmichael, Ethel McMicking, Fannie Leech and Gertie Rithet. The luncheon room in the class room at the end came next in order to be visited, and here a delicate supper was served at 6 p. m., while "at all hours of the day and night," as the restaurant signs say, tea, coffee and light refreshments were provided. The ladies in charge of the commissary were Mrs. McMicking, Mrs. T. M. Henderson, Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Jack, Mrs. Patterson, and the Misses Murray, Cameron, McLeod, Cathcart, Jamieson, and Mortimer.

At the right of the dining parlor was a cleverly constructed little winter grotto, a cave of fleecy cotton wool, through a big window of which was to be seen a fireplace, suggesting everything that pertains to Christmas. This was the real and only home of Santa Claus the great, just borrowed for a little while by the Misses Gordon and Heisterman; and here toys to charm the heart of childhood were disposed of during the day and evening. The tables of plain and fancy work were looked after by Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Page, Mrs. Jamieson, and Mrs. McGregor; while Miss Cameron had something new in the shape of literary salad—just try it tonight if you haven't yet and see what it's like.

The magic stepladder, another pretty innovation, was in charge of the Misses McLeod, Simpson and Erb; the Misses Hutcheson, Gordon and Erb looked after the wants of patrons of the central pagoda; and the ice cream and lemonade stand was presided over by the Misses McMicking, Jorand and Angus, and Mrs. Gillespie.

The attendance drawn during the evening by the multitudinous attractions, the enumeration of which space forbids, far exceeded the anticipations even of the ladies of the church. In fact the room was uncomfortably crowded in the evening, and the members of the Ladies Aid finally decided to grant the request of the public and repeat the fete this evening, when all the fancy work remaining unsold will be disposed of, and all who come will have the best of good times.

Smokes sweet and cool to the last—Olde Fashioned Cut Plug.
